English-speaking Assistant Teacher

The non-profit organization Les Amis de L'Ecole Koenig was founded in 1986 by Joan Koenig to create an international, creative, and artistic working environment focused on the 21st century.

Located in the heart of La Motte Piquet Grenelle's lively district, the school offers a wide range of activities based on music and children's well-being. More than 500 children now attend its preschool and extracurricular classes.

The preschool program is unique and innovative: it allows children from all backgrounds to learn through music, English, and French and acquire the essential notions for first grade. Today, neuroscience recognizes the central role of music in early childhood, and our program is based on these scientific advances.

To strengthen our team, we are recruiting an English-speaking Assistant Teacher.

Duties:
- Under the supervision of the teaching team, lead workshops and participate in the preparation of classes for the students he/she is charged of, following the program's pedagogical guidelines

- Ensure the children's safety throughout the various activities and the discipline by the school philosophy

- Participate in the preparation of the students for the shows

- Participate in pedagogical meetings and training sessions to further develop his/her skills

- Participate in the follow-up of his/her students (absences, evaluations) and ensure professional and friendly communication with the students and their parents

Profile sought:

- You are bilingual in English

- You have a first successful experience in contact with young children in a school or extracurricular environment.

- You have excellent interpersonal skills and know how to adapt your communication to various interlocutors

- You are a good teacher and can adapt to students with varied profiles

- You are versatile, autonomous, and have an excellent personal organization

- You are rigorous in the follow-up of your students and the implementation of projects

- You show initiative and creativity